The Bulletin.

A Startling Exhibition in Cincinnati.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

Quite an interesting exhibition took place on Elm street yesterday afternoon. A couple of grown men, who ought to have known better, went in bathing in the canal, near the Vine-street bridge. About 3 o'clock, just when they were having the best of the fun, a policeman made his appearance upon the bridge, and before they could reach the bank the blue coat had their clothes and was leaving with them. The incensed bathers made a very pathetic appeal for their garment, but the watchman was unyielding, and carried the garments away and hid them. Returning to the canal he stood the pair until he drove them out of the water. He then chased them, stark naked as they were, along the canal to Elm, and down Elm, through crowds of people on every square, to Second and Elm.

The procession then moved east on Seventh street, to midway between Elm and Race streets, where one of the naked individuals rushed into a little dwelling, closely followed by his friend. The bathers did not stop to look at the doorplate to see whether either of them lived there or was acquainted with the occupants of the house, but threw themselves unmercifully on the mercy of the family. They had reason to congratulate themselves upon their choice of a refuge. The gentleman of the house loaned each of them a suit of his clothes and would not hear of their leaving until the "blush" had disappeared.

The Popular Topic of the Age.

The day has gone by when a medicine which would command and retain the confidence of the world. Advertising induces the public to many things, but in this shrewd and thoughtful age, the public are not without proofs, and it is by the exercises of the press that we must determine the relative value of the various nostrums recommended to their notice through the business columns of the daily news.

Stomach Bitters has now been subjected to this searching ordeal for more than eighteen years, and it is to the credit of the manufacturer that it is to-day the stanchard Vegetable Tonic of the world. It is a happy effect which follows its use in every way, and it is to all intents and purposes, a new discovery in Toilet Chemistry.

Phalon's "VITALIA" is warranted to effect a change in the color of the hair within 10 days after the first application, the direction being carefully observed.

HAIR RESTORATIVES.

PHALON'S

VITALIA;

OR,

Savation for the Hair.

For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the "dyes,"

"colorers," and "restorers"

(?) in use.

It acts on a totally different principle.

It is limp, fragrant, and perfectly innocuous, precipitates no muddy or translucent matter, requires no shaking up, and communicates no stain to the skin or the lined.

No paper curtain is necessary to conceal its turbid appearance, for the simple reason that it is not turbid.

It is, to all intents and purposes, a new discovery in Toilet Chemistry.
